for children or parents with a life-limiting illness

We give love a voice through an audio biography.

About the project

Passing on audible memories

We offer all minor children of parents with a life-limiting illness the opportunity to receive a Familienhörbuch with their mum's or dad's voice. A personal audio story full of love, memories and lifelong answers to the question: "Who were you, Mum/Dad?"

The Familienhörbuch is free of charge for families. Production is financed through donations and grants.

Our gift for the future

Love you can hear

The number of requests for a Familienhörbuch continues to grow. Parents facing a life-limiting diagnosis who wish to record a message for their children should not have to wait long.

As a non-profit organisation, our work is funded exclusively through donations and grants. All donations directly support future productions.

Every donation helps us support families in a profoundly challenging life situation. Our PalliativPlus programme also enables shorter waiting times for partner institutions in palliative care.
